

ADRIAN CALEY, A READER SAYS:

Last night I finished reading the book and was very impressed.

I found it to be easy to read with simple language and well-written dialogue.

I also found that I was able to relate to many of the issues like military service and the politics of the time.

Although fictional it was not hard to identify some of the "characters" in the book, which I found made it all that more intriguing.

Well done and I can't wait to start on At Lockwood.

Adrian Caley,
Johannesburg

May 2011